

Food and Nutrition Resource Management

Skill Area: Coursework

Competencies:

CD 6, CD12, CD13, CD16, CD17, CD18, CD19, CD46, GE5,

GE8, GE9, GE10

Description:

Examine management applications in a variety of food and nutrition practice settings, with an emphasis on resource allocation. Case studies, business plan creation and literature review.

Learning Outcomes:

- Conduct a self-assessment of managerial skills
- Identify resource management skills required in an organization
- Develop human resource skills: hiring and training new employees, supervising employees, analyzing employee situations, and evaluating performance
- Develop budgeting skills to account for resources, costs, and forecasting needs related to human, financial, and materials management
- Develop a business and operating plan
- Design a marketing plan
- Interpret the results of analysis of all managerial activity in a professional practice setting, including financial materials, human resources and physical resources
- Interpret incorporate new scientific knowledge into practice
- Participate in a variety of managerial resource activities